Motivated and detail-oriented Software Developer with hands-on experience in building modern web applications using technologies like React, Next.js, and NestJS. Strong understanding of full-stack development principles and a passion for writing clean, maintainable code. Continuously learning and improving to deliver efficient, user-focused solutions.

EXPERIENCE

FULLSTACK INTERN

ltransition Group

July 2025 - September 2025

Completed all assigned development tasks and successfully defended the final course project, gaining hands-on experience in full-stack web development. Built several projects using Next.js, NestJS, and WebSockets, implementing end-to-end features such as authentication, data management, and real-time API communication.

REACT INTERN

Andersen LAB

August 2025 - September 2025

Focused on theoretical learning while contributing to a collaborative group project. Responsible for frontend development using React and TypeScript — implementing UI components, integrating APIs, reviewing colleagues' code, and fixing bugs. Gained experience with Jira, Git workflow, and team-based software development.

FULLSTACK DEVELOPER

spreads.kz

October 2025 - January 2026

Develop and maintain a production web platform using Next.js on the frontend and NestJS on the backend. Design and implement REST and GraphQL APIs. Implement secure authentication and authorization using JWT-based authentication stored in cookies. Collaborate with the team using Git and follow best practices in clean code and maintainability. Optimize application performance and API responses.

BACKEND DEVELOPER

MORRE

January 2026 - Present

Designed and implemented Domain-Driven Design (DDD) and CQRS-based architecture, ensuring clear separation of concerns and scalable systems. Developed microservices and REST/GraphQL APIs, providing reliable integration between services and high system performance. Implemented multi-level authentication and authorization, including user roles and access control for resources.
